

Student Housing

Jehovah Jireh Hall

NORTHEASTERN
— BAPTIST COLLEGE —

HOUSING OVERVIEW

Student housing is overseen by the Office of Student Services. The Student Services office exists to support students in their transition through college. Many times that involves trials large and small. When college students face the challenges associated with becoming an adult, Student Services is there with support, counseling, mentorship, and prayer.

Here at Northeastern Baptist College we seek to provide student housing that is affordable and safe. Above all of that, however; is the desire to create an environment that encourages spiritual development and is conducive to growing each unique student who has been called to NEBC. All of our Student Life staff focus on the student as an individual in their encouragement and mentorship.

- Tony Levesque, Dean of Students

Student Housing is more than just a place to live

it's a place to grow

The Residence Assistants, or RAs are at once a first point of contact for students who have housing related questions and at the same time they serve as student advocates and mentors focused on the spiritual wellbeing of the students. These upper-classmen/women participate in weekly training where they are poured into by the Director of Student Services and in turn learn to pour into the students in their charge.

JEHOVAH JIREH HALL

Community Style Living

Jehovah Jireh Hall is a reminder of how much God has provided to accomplish the mission at NEBC. We began the summer of 2014 with a need for student housing and a $36.00 donation.

“The Lord Provides”

The faculty and staff prayed daily for God to multiply those funds to house the students arriving in the fall. Less than 6 weeks later God answered our prayers and J. J. Hall became our first student dorm.

This renovated quaint New England style motel can house up to 30 students in its communal living environment.
